

Restaurants around Embassy Suites Downtown and IUPUI

Bru Burger 410 Massachusetts Avenue, 46204

- Known for: A hearty cheese and charcuterie “bru board” will start your meal off strong before you bite into gourmet beef, lamb, turkey and veggie burgers with toppings like sweet chili mayo and cucumber slaw or habanero hot sauce and havarti.
- Drink menu: 16 rotating craft bottles and draft options and over two dozen bourbons and whiskeys to drink straight or in a cocktail.
- Atmosphere: Sleek granite countertop bar with seating, brick walls, and wooden tables give off an intimate and comfortable dining experience. In the warm months, enjoy the patio that overlooks Mass Ave.
- Open for: Lunch and dinner

Café Patachou

Martha Hoover’s Cafe Patachou is a must visit for both the farm-to-table sustainable menu and the impact of food and social change in Indianapolis.

- Known for: Farm fresh breakfasts of omelets and broken yolks or vegan Cuban breakfast. Locals will tell you the Patachou chicken salad is a lunch must.
- Drink menu: Five types of mimosa and prosecco cocktails, self-serve coffee bar, yogurt smoothies, and juices.
- Atmosphere: Multiple locations across the city have many things in common, such as the clean lines and fresh white walls that allow the light to focus on the bright and fresh plates.
- Open for: Breakfast and lunch

St. Elmo Steak House

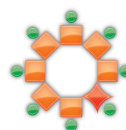

St. Elmo Steak House is Indy’s award-winning old world style restaurant that proves great service and classic cooking methods make for a timeless menu worth visiting again and again.

- Known for: World Famous Shrimp Cocktail with spicy, signature cocktail sauce, traditional steak cuts or chicken and seafood paired with potatoes or classic sides.
- Drink menu: Equally weighted wine and beer menus next to classic martinis, mules, and Elmo Colas.
- Atmosphere: Early 20th century decor inside the bar, large room, and private dining areas features wood paneled and brick walls with carefully curated art and photos.
- Open for: Dinner

Shapiro’s Delicatessen

Shapiro’s Delicatessen has served cafeteria-style sandwiches, soups, and Jewish favorites in downtown Indy for 110 years.

- Known for: Corned beef and pastrami on rye, matzo ball soup, apricot rugelach, and bagels.
- Drink menu: Canned Dr. Brown’s soda, including Cel-Ray.

- Atmosphere: Shapiro's large and open dining room hosts a bakery and grocery store, self-serve cafeteria line, and windows that remind you you're in a busy downtown district.
- Open for: Breakfast, lunch, and dinner

Bluebeard

Indy's oldest neighborhood is home to a daily rotating menu derived from local farms at Bluebeard, named after a Kurt Vonnegut novel.

- Known for: Afternoon or cocktail snacks of pickles and cheese, pulled pork and kimchi sandwiches, or mains like roasted cauliflower or pierogi.
- Atmosphere: Step off the Indianapolis Cultural Trail into a renovated 1924 warehouse with wood floors, brick walls, and large windows that will let your mind time travel while your taste buds stay put.
- Drink menu: House crafted libations, sommelier-selected wine, and local beer.
- Open for: Lunch and dinner

Mimi Blue Meatballs

Mimi Blue Meatballs was created as a tribute to the great Mimi and her desire for home-cooked food coupled with a luxurious experience.

- Known for: Classic beef, turkey, or veggie-style meatballs ordered a la carte, on sandwiches or as sliders, and served with your pick of marinara, creamy or specialty sauces, and classic side dishes.
- Drink menu: Wine list and coffees.
- Atmosphere: Prohibition-style dining room with leather seating, dark wood, and ornate lighting.
- Open for: Brunch, lunch, and dinner

Yats 875 Massachusetts Avenue, Indianapolis, 46204

Yats keeps Indy's food scene alive and spicy with fast Cajun and Creole dishes that rotate on and off a daily menu.

- Known for: Crawfish etouffee, gumbo, the B&B, all served on rice and ordered with or without cheese, onions, and sour cream. Always get more bread.
- Drink menu: Soft drinks, beer, and wine.
- Atmosphere: Walk into any Yats location and prepare for a punch of bright colors and New Orleans-style decor, often adorned with restaurant accolades and Indy-centric memorabilia.
- Open for: Lunch and dinner

Thaitanium 735 Massachusetts Avenue, Indianapolis, 46204

Thai food

Petra Café, 610 Massachusetts Avenue, Indianapolis, 46204

Greek

Saffron Café, 621 Fort Wayne Avenue, Indianapolis, IN 46204

Mediterranean, Moroccan

La Parada, 1642 E. New York Street, Indianapolis, IN 46204

Mexican

