

Peer-Led Team Learning International Society
Tenth Annual Conference
Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri
Wednesday ~ Saturday, June 1-4, 2022

Navigating the Confluence of Academic Disciplines, Leader Training, and Student Learning through the Changing Landscape of PLTL

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

By attending this conference, you will gain knowledge, skills, and interact with practitioners of Peer-Led Team Learning and student-directed facilitation of learning through:

- Dissemination of research-based high-impact practices
- Understanding and implementation of relational practices that support inclusion and belonging
- Methods of facilitation and preparation of Peer Leaders and faculty
- Methods of support for programs across disciplines/ departments/ campuses
- Examination and means of addressing hindrances to adoption of peer-led programs
- Development of ideas for implementation
- Paths to support institutional strategic plans through implementation

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Peer Leaders, Faculty, Administrators and program Alumni
- College, University Professors of STEM, non-STEM, Education, Business and other courses
- Administrators, Deans, Curriculum Directors
- Directors and staff of Teaching & Learning Centers; Academic Success/Support Centers
- Curriculum and Staff Developers, Learning Specialists
- 7th-12th Grade Teachers, Administrators
- Teachers of STEM disciplines
- Superintendents, Principals, School Heads
- Students interested in leadership and peer mentorship

