

PLTLIS 14th Annual Conference

New York City College of Technology | City University of New York
May 27th–30th, 2026 | Brooklyn, NY | Hybrid Format

CELEBRATING ACTIVE LEARNING: Shared Missions & Practices in Models of Student Engagement

The conference welcomes prospective, new, and experienced practitioners of active learning models. Recognized leaders and practitioners in active learning will share pillars of practice, challenges, successes, and wisdom. Presentations and panels will provide opportunities to share practical takeaways and gain cross-model insights.

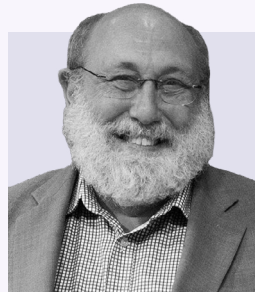

<https://pltlis.org/annual-pltlis-conference/>

Finding Common Ground Among Active Learning Models Meet the Panelists

Cooperative Learning

Karl A. Smith
University of Minnesota

MathExcel/Workshop Mathematics

Thomas P. Dick
Oregon State University

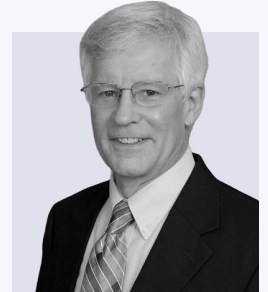

Peer-Led Team Learning

Pratibha Varma-Nelson
Indiana University

POGIL-Process Oriented Guided Inquiry Learning

Richard S. Moog
Franklin & Marshall College

Problem-Based Learning

David Kornack
University of Rochester

Supplemental Instruction

Jessica Pearson
University of Missouri-Kansas City

Team-Based Learning

Graham Easton
Queen Mary University London

The Impact of Active Learning

Joanna Li
Washington University in St. Louis

Scan
QR Code to
Learn More

